Excerpt: .3,5 Cast Iron. 1.0 1.3 These figures are the result of a series of tests conducted by the Franklin Institute and represent the facts as nearly as they could be determined. There are now a number of makes of steel in the market treated along the lines explained above, which give equally as good results. An exact knowledge of the cutting speeds of which these tools will permit when machining different materials, and the power to pull various cuts under all conditions, are absolutely essential if we wish to properly design machine tools, or use them to their full capabilities in actual service. The value of this information is now being realized by several of the machine tool builders, and the results are already being felt in the shop in the form of much more efficient machine tools. The motor drive makes the measurement...
