Reviews

This pdf is indeed gripping and interesting. It is definitely simplistic but shocks within the 50 percent of your book. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

Not illustrated. 1891 Excerpt: . . . into the possession of the city. It will then still retain its horses and rolling-stock, and such real estate as it may own. The company puts down its own tracks, but must use the form of rail that the city authorities direct, and must put this down in a manner to meet, in all respects, official approval. If a street is considered by the municipal authorities too narrow for horse-car traffic, the necessary widening must be made at the expense of the company, which must also pay for all changes that the laying of the tracks necessitate in water-mains, sewers, gas-pipes, etc. , and must, moreover, pay whatever expense for street repairs the city authorities consider to be its share. Before undertaking any extensive work to which the company must contribute, the city authorities usually lay the matter before the officers of the company, as a matter of courtesy merely. The company has to pay for its use of the public streets a tax upon its gross income of four per cent. when this income is but 6, 000, 000 marks or under, and ascending on a sliding scale to eight per cent. tax per annum when the gross income is 15, 000, 000 marks or over. The company paid of last years receipts seven and three-quarters per cent. to the government; that is, a sum equivalent to 247, 625. Beside this, the company has to pay a tax on all of its real...
